

Queen's Ball Closes Social Season

MO BOZEL AND BILL PHILLIPS congratulate each other after their sweeping victories in last week's elections for Student Council President and AA President, respectively.

Bozel Wins SC Election; Phillips New AA Prexy

Maurice (Mo) Bozel was elected President of the Student Council by a landslide in the general elections held on Wednesday, April 28. For the first time in many years the winning candidate had a majority of the votes cast. His closest competitor, Ray Gaeng, had only 107 votes compared to his 220. The other candidates were Richard Hunt and William Taymans.

Bozel gathered huge majorities in both the freshman and sophomore classes and managed to take the junior class by a slight margin. He lost the senior class to Ray Gaeng.

Phillips Sweeps Underclasses

In the contest for Athletic Association President, Bill (Ron) Phillips won with a total of 239 votes to Bob Cucuel's 181. Once again, Phillips got big majorities in the freshman and sophomore classes and lost the junior and senior classes by only a small plurality in each case.

Apparently the freshman and sophomore classes, the two largest in the college, were the controlling factor in the election as was expected by many campus politicians. The winning candidates took over their respective offices immediately and will be officially installed at the Queen's Ball tomorrow night.

Plans Council Meeting

Mo Bozel plans to have a meeting of the newly elected council as soon as all organizations have held their elections. As Mo said in his campaign platform, he would like to see two or three free periods a week for activities so that they might not be hindered by lack of attendance on the part of their members. He also feels that one of the most important things in the coming year will be an impressive, firm and sound orientation program. Mo would like to see the social calendar for next year planned as far ahead as possible, preferably by the end of this scholastic year.

Bozel and Phillips wish to express their sincere thanks to all who aided in their election and they promise to do the best job they can in the coming year.

Bozel plans to hold at least one more Student Council meeting before examinations begin at which time the other officers of the Council will be elected for the coming year.

TKA To Hold Speech Tourney Here Tomorrow

The Loyola Chapter of the Tau Kappa Alpha Forensic Fraternity will conduct its Fourth Annual TKA Tournament on Saturday, May 8. This tournament is held for the benefit of high school orators and extemporaneous speakers in the Baltimore Area.

Forty-two public and private high schools were invited to this year's event, and thus far the returns indicate that approximately 150 students will participate. Registration will begin at 10:30 A.M., in Cohn Auditorium, and the introductory address will be presented one hour later.

Oratorical And Extempore Contest

An Oratorical Contest will be conducted in which the contestant will be limited to a six-minute self-composed speech. An Extemporaneous Contest will follow, and the participants will present a four-minute speech on some topic to be selected just before the contest begins. Elimination rounds are scheduled to determine the finalists in both oratory and extempore. Students who place first, second and third in each final will receive individual trophies for their achievement. Last year, these six trophies were awarded to students representing six different Baltimore high schools. The school compiling the greatest number of points in the final rounds will obtain possession of a rotating trophy, which was won last spring by Loyola High School. Refreshments will be served in the auditorium.

Faculty And Alumni Judges

The chairman for the tourney is William Hicken, president of TKA, and two other members of the fraternity, Richard Otenasek and Bruce Alderman, will officiate the oratorical and extemporaneous contests respectively. Members of the Bellarmine Debating Society will act as chairmen for the various divisions of each event. Judges include alumni fraternity brothers and members of the college faculty.

Sodality Sponsors Annual Ball In Gym Tomorrow Night At Nine

The Eighth Annual Queen's Ball, sponsored by the Junior Sodality, will be held on May 8th in the Loyola College Gymnasium, from 9 P.M. until 1 A.M. The Sodalists have acquired one of the finest local orchestras in obtaining Ted Zamecki's outfit, so as to guarantee a spendid turnout and a most enjoyable evening for all concerned. As the highlight of the evening, the Queen of the Ball will place a crown of roses on the Blessed Mother's statue during the intermission.

Jazz And Sentimental Music

On the dance floor itself the guests will be amazed at the unique style and versatility of Ted Zamecki's Orchestra. It is a well known fact that this is the smoothest 10-piece orchestra in the city. But as the "live it up" clientele is well aware, Mr. Zamecki also provides music for some of the hottest jitterbugs in town (on request). When one combines this hot music with the sentimental dream arrangements for which he is best known, it adds up to an interesting and entertaining evening for everyone. Moreover, Mr. Zamecki will feature a female vocalist, guaranteed to delight the most critical guest.

The Gymnasium will assume a fresh and exotic countenance for this one May evening at least. On the South side will be the highly decorated altar holding the statue of the Blessed Mother. From the ceiling, both to the east and west, will hang blue and white streamers, all meeting at the altar. The setting for the Queen's Ball is indeed a tribute to the dance committee of the Junior Sodality, but is typical of the work they have done through the years.

Queen To Crown Mary's Statue

At intermission the Queen, followed by her court of lovely Misses, will proceed to the Blessed Mother's statue. The Queen will then place a garland of white roses on the head of the Blessed Mother. This awe-inspiring ceremony proves year after year to be one not quickly forgotten. The crowning of the Blessed Mother will be followed by the presentation of an award to the senior, who, in the opinion of the Sodality, has done the most for the name of Loyola during the past four years. The award, as many remember, was won last year by Bob Bollinger.

After the intermission, the orchestra will continue playing until 1 o'clock, at which time a Mass will be said in the Chapel for the convenience of the guests.

Tickets Priced At $2.40

Technical details for the Queen's Ball have also been efficiently cared for. Ample refreshments will be on hand at nominal prices. Table reservations are being taken by Tom Burch of the sophomore class. Tickets may be purchased from sodalists or their representatives. The freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes may obtain tickets also from Bob Heymann, Tom Burch, Bill Kernan and Ned Callahan, respectively. The tickets are the standard price of $2.40 per couple.

The Junior Sodality is certain that the Queen's Ball will be as big a success this year as it has been in the past—both in its social and financial aspects. Naturally the Sodalists expect a large turnout of the upperclassmen; the underclassmen, especially the freshmen, should attend "en masse," not only because of the originality in such a dance as this, but also because it will increase their social contacts and their interest in extra-curricular functions. See you there!

DeSantis, Cox And Emerson Victorious In Class Elections

The individual class elections, held on the same day as the election for Student Council President, produced several very close races.

In the Senior Class ('55), Jay Foley was defeated in the race for President by Joseph DeSantis. Foley will automatically become Vice President. Tom Reynolds bested Bill Thompson in the race for Secretary, and Connie Lanzi was elected Treasurer over John Faw.

Cox Ticket Victorious

Junior class elections saw Ed Cox, varsity pitcher and Business Major, emerge the victor over Wayne "Wizard" White. The entire Cox ticket was elected, with Dick Barranger and Waide Howley winning their races for Secretary and Treasurer over Bill Brown and Ted Weis, respectively.

Elections in next year's Sophomore class found extremely close races among the three slates entered. Joe Emerson will be the next President, while Dick Holz, who finished second, will be Vice President. Other winners in the and Gerard Petrik, Treasurer.

Hal Sanks, Loyola Debater, Wins Baltimore Area Finals Of Hearst Oratorical Contest

T. Howland Sanks, treasurer of the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society, won first place in the regional competition of the Hearst Oratorical Contest. Sanks defeated five other contestants in the finals, held April 30. Each of the six finalists was a winner in one of the preliminary contests held the previous evening.

Travels to Albany

For his victory, Sanks was awarded a $500 Savings Bond. On May 11, he will leave for Albany, New York, where he will compete against the winners from other districts in this section of the country. The winner of the Albany competition will participate in the national finals.

Third place in the Middle Atlantic States finals went to Bruce Alderman, secretary of the Debating Society. He was awarded a $50 Savings Bond.

Last Wednesday afternoon, the annual Lee Oratorical contest was held in the Student Lounge. Participants included many of those who competed in the Hearst Contest. The judges for the contest were the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S.J., Dr. Harry Kirwin, and Mr. Frank Gallagher.

Prize Debate Scheduled

This coming Monday afternoon at 3:30, the officers of the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society will participate in the annual Prize Debate. They will be competing for a gold medal which is awarded to the best speaker. Representing the affirmative will be James O'Hara and Hal Sanks while William Hicken and Richard Otenasek will uphold the negative. The judges will be the Rev. William Gibbons, S.J., and Mr. Frank Gallagher.

Banquet Monday

The Debating Society banquet and elections will be held this coming Monday at Marty's Restaurant. Invitations have been extended to all the active members of the society, the present moderator, Mr. Francis Voci, Mr. Frank Gallagher, and the Reverends Robert Hoggson, S.J., and William Davish, S.J., former debate moderators.

Dinner Closes Banner Season For Glee Club

Climaxing a successful season, the annual banquet for the members of the Loyola College Glee Club was held at Marty Welsh's last night. The succulent steak dinner featured by the Fayette St. establishment was followed by a short talk by the club's moderator, Rev. Frederick C. Koehler, S.J., and by the presentation of a silver key to each of the graduating members.

At a recent meeting, elections were held for next year's officers. Ralston Russell was elected president, Ferd Mainolfi, vice president, Bob Hawkins, treasurer, and Charlie Supik, secretary.

Concert Presented Last Friday

The Glee Club, assisted by St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, presented its annual Spring Concert at Cohn Auditorium on Friday, April 30. Both clubs were directed by Mr. Felice Iula.

The guest soloist of the evening was Mr. Frank Whitmore, a bass-baritone, who is a soloist with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. The concert was followed by an informal dance.

Ex-Editor In Europe

Pvt. John W. McGrain, Jr., Class of '53 and former editor of THE GREYHOUND and the Evergreen Quarterly, was recently graduated from a five-month course in Fixed Station Radio Repair and Maintenance at the Signal School, Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Pvt. McGrain is now en route to a permanent assignment with the Signal Corps in Europe.

Pershing Rifles Place First In Drill Contest

By Captain Loren S. Patterson

Loyola's Pershing Rifle Drill Team won first place in the trick drill division of the Fifth Regiment Drill Meet held Saturday, May 1, at the University of Pennsylvania. This was Loyola's first appearance at the annual meet.

Loyola's Company T-5 met teams from eleven other leading Eastern colleges. Composed of twelve freshmen and sophomores, the group was under the command of Cadet Jack Doetzer. At a banquet held after the meet, Doetzer received the trophy on behalf of the company. Also receiving an award as best cadet in Company T-5 was freshman P.R. cadet John Kwedar.

Work Pays Off

The fine showing which the Pershing Rifle group made in Philadelphia is due to the endless hours of work put in by the P.R. members. For the past two months they have drilled diligently four and five hours a week.

On Saturday night, April 24, at Turner Armory, the Pershing Rifle Company presented the Second Annual Military Ball. The decoration committee did a fine job in giving the armory the appearance of a ballroom, and the Second Army Band provided its usual brand of excellent music. The intermission activities were highlighted by a fancy drill demonstration presented by the freshmen members of the Pershing Rifle Company under the command of Jack Yuhn, and by the crowning of the Queen of the Ball. For those who missed the Military Ball ceremonies, the lovely queen and her court will preside at the Queen's Review to be held at 1:30 P.M. on Wednesday, May 12. The Pershing Rifle sponsors feel that the second Military Ball at least equaled the success of last year's ball.

Colonel Larson Inspects Unit

On Wednesday, April 28, the ROTC Detachment received its Annual Federal Inspection. The inspection team was headed by Colonel Robert C. Larson, PMS&T of the University of Richmond. In addition to inspecting the installation and three classes, Colonel Larson discussed the operation of the ROTC with the president. The inspection was terminated by a review for Colonel Larson by the entire corps. Although no official report has as yet been received, the inspection team seemed well pleased.

During the regular drill period on May 5, competition was conducted to determine the best drilled company platoons, squads and individuals. On Wednesday, May 12, the annual Queen's review will take place. The final drill on Wednesday, May 19, will feature a review in honor of the president, the Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S.J. At this time military awards for this academic year will also be presented to deserving cadets.

The ROTC Detachment is happy to announce that the rifle range is now complete. It was officially opened on Monday, April 12, by Charley Wunder, the captain of the rifle team, who fired the first round and, incidentally, missed the bullseye. For the remainder of this year, range firing will be limited to practice by the rifle team. Next year the range will be open to anyone in ROTC who desires to fire.

Eta Sigma Phi Nominates Six

The Classics Academy held its last meeting on Tuesday, May 4, at 3 o'clock. Daniel M. Mackey presented a talk on the "Story of the Japanese Language," tracing its origins, development and structure, and presenting special examples of its literature. Officers for the coming year were also elected at this meeting.

Eta Sigma Phi Nominates Six

The Loyola Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, the national honorary Latin Fraternity, has selected John Tormey, Wayne White, Michael Leaken, Sam Ady, Tom Burch and John Phillips as the top Latin students who will be received into the organization this year. Joe Mead, James Quimper, James Durkan, Lee Russo and Kent Wright were selected last year. Neither group, however, has yet been initiated. The Classics Department hopes to hold a formal initiation as soon as possible.

Clubs And Activities

Academy of Management

An auditive group of thirty-seven students from the Academy of Accounting and Commerce were present at the lecture given by Mr. Orville Allen, Assistant Commissioner of the Maryland State Employment, Monday, April 26th.

During the one-hour talk, the assistant commissioner accentuated two phases of employment—the Merit System and Opportunities in State Employment.

Employment Requirements Discussed

The historical aspects of the Merit System were discussed as well as employment requirements. The speaker also mentioned that veterans are benefited by the Law of Preference.

Personal appearance, ability to think, and above all, not to oversell oneself were the elements emphasized as the basis utilized by interviewers in employee selection.

Brochures explicating careers in Maryland State Government, such as Engineering, Statistics and Accounting, were distributed.

Math Club

The last meeting of the Saccheri Mathematics Club of Loyola College will be held on Sunday, May 9, at 7:30 P.M., in the Student Lounge. The speaker for this meeting will be Mr. Ralph Edwards, Head Actuary for the Baltimore Life Insurance Company. His topic for the evening will be "The Actuarial Position."

This lecture will complete the most successful year in the history of the Math Club here at Loyola.

Chemistry Club

The student chapter of the American Chemical Society held its annual elections last week. Joe Tyson was elected as president, backed up by Gibby Russell as Vice President and Don Smith as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Chemists have planned an all day tour through the Du Pont research and development laboratory on May 18.

The annual Chemistry Club banquet will be held May 17 at the Blackstone Apts.

Physics Club

The Angelo Secchi Physics Academy recently visited the Georgetown University Observatory and the Naval Observatory in Washington D. C. The moderator, Rev. John Delaney, S.J., accompanied the group. The afternoon was spent at Georgetown, inspecting the University's 12-inch refractor telescope, the spectroscopy and other optical equipment.

In the evening, the Club toured the Naval Observatory, viewing Jupiter and the Moon through a 26-inch refractor. The Observatory's Time Service, where time measured to a thousandth of a second, was also visited. This service is maintained as an aid to navigators in our ships and airplanes, allowing them to compute their exact positions.

The Club will tour the Naval Ordnance Center, where one of the world's largest supersonic wind tunnels is located.

History Academy

The John Gilmary Shea History Academy held its final meeting the year on Wednesday, May 4, at the home of its president, J. Greenwell. The gathering was the occasion of the club's annual election of officers for next year.

In keeping with the current phase of discussion, "Also-Runs for the Presidency," two papers were presented: one on John Breckinridge by J. Quimper and the other pertaining to Samuel Tilden by Gene M. were delivered.

At a previous meeting held at the home of Dan Whiteford, April, a lengthy and interesting discourse on Henry Clay was given by the club leader.

Banquet May 13

To climax the History Academy's year, the Annual Banquet will take place on Thursday evening, May 13, will be consumed at Love's Restaurant. The Rev. William Gibbons, S.J., Loyola ethics professor, has been secured as guest speaker. All those desiring to attend are requested to contact secretary Jim Quimper or moderator Dr. William Hoyt.

High Society Leads The Way To Gay Times

by James R. Ford

On various occasions during our sojourn at Evergreen, we have had the idea constantly impressed upon us that man is by nature a social animal. According to the texts, we only achieve our most worthy efforts through well ordered social living. In brief, man just can't live alone and like it, even though the tight-fisted claim it's cheaper.

Something Old, Something New

However, since the days when man put aside his flint ax and became housebroken, he has developed and elaborated upon social customs and institutions until the earlier forms are no longer recognizable. Now we have low society (no inference to class parties at Mt. Washington), middle class society, and finally, that paragon of human endeavor, high society. The term "high" is used to describe the usual condition of many of its more elite members.

Now, from the actions of those persons who comprise this group, we may assume that it is their avowed purpose in life to consume the greatest amount of alcohol in the shortest amount of time. Secondly, they seem to have taken it upon themselves, high minded as they are, to be the sole supporters of civil divorce courts. Although there are but a few Mohammedans amongst their numbers, it is still quite fashionable for members of other nationalities to maintain harems of their own. The marital anthem of these ultra-ultra sophisticates seems to be "The More the Merrier."

What A World

These high ideals seem to be especially favored by the "international set." They revolve in a world of champagne-powered sports cars, where a man is not a man until he has chalked up five or six spouses, or until he has, with gentlemanly finesse, slugged one of his sweethearts in some exclusive Parisian night club. On the other hand, the female members of this upper "rust" have their moments also. After chasing from one continent to another, and having collected several husbands along the way, they appear on television and give helpful hints to worshipping fans on how to achieve a successful and lasting marriage. Finally, after their racy days are over, they curl up in their rhinestone cocoons and eventually retire to a spot where the temperature is rather warm.

Despite the fact that they're good kids underneath it all, these people have made a farce out of nearly every decent institution. But isn't it true that they provide gossip columnists with a rather rewarding livelihood?

The following happened to no less a man than Frank Vona-sek: Big Von was strolling along Lexington street one evening. his hand entwined with that of his girl's as he ogled the manikins in the store windows, when a gypsy spied the happy couple. Brandishing an armful of corsages, the Bohemian sauntered over to Frank's date and inoculated her shoulder with two dollars' worth of flora. Frank donated the sum to the lad and sought safety in a local sippery. As he sat there, musing over his recent insolvency, one of the three buds fell to the table and quivered, a victim of dry rot. The young lady detached the shrubbery from her shoulder and quietly donated the residue to the sweeper. . . . Mr. Toland deserves an "A" for instructing the militant military in the art of ballroom dancing. . . . Tom Christian is now dating a beatific vision. His latest swan song is "Take Me Out To The Ball Game." . . . Don Burton claims he is majoring in Military Science. . . . Bernie Hopkins dreamt he went to Catholic High's prom in an ROTC uniform. They say he added a few ribbons too! . . . Charlie Wiegand has returned to the campus after entertaining the nurses at Mercy for three weeks. . . . Mannie Seegal is following in the dancesteps of Joe DeSantis when he smuggles into the Juke Box Hop. . . . Joe "Bones" Emerson has been staying up 'til 2 o'clock. . . . The whole campus is echoing a parody on "Rag Mop." Seems a fad started at Turner's Armory during the Military Ball. . . . Ed Gunning has his own Pun American conference every day in philosophy. I hear it is really PUNishment. . . . Diego Nucete seems to own stock in the phone company if number of calls is any criterion. The WATCHDOG takes this occasion to congratulate the new officers of the various years, and especially Mo Bozel and Bill Phillips for their sweeping victories. It is interesting to note that one machine was responsible for the election of all five of its candidates. The power of the free beer! All kidding aside, let us hope that next year brings renewed interest in an active Student Council and, as Lefty Reitz has been pushing for so long, a friendlier atmosphere about the campus.

Bill Hicken, who appeared on a television show not too long ago as an "unattached but interested" male, proved the power of the kinescope when he announced his engagement during the Easter Holidays. . . . One of the more pressing conflicts reared its ugly head in English class last week. Mr. Voci says the poet Robert Frost is 84. The book says that Frost's nativity was in 1875. Mr. Voci is an English major. . . . John Stevens suffered his twenty-first birthday at the hands of Ed Mattson and Tom Molesky. Even his dimples blushed.

For those interested in the legitimate stage, one of Loyola's 1950 graduates has done very well for himself. The lad in question is Bill Mullikin, who left the campus by way of the January route. Bill, who impressed many playgoers as an amateur with the professional touch, is currently acting in the cinema attraction "New Faces." In the road show of "South Pacific" he played the literate seabee. He also opened with the stage production of "New Faces," playing at the Royale Theater for a year. The film version of the Broadway hit has the same cast as the live production.

Editorials

Graduation from college is an important event in every student's life, but to many observers it is misleading, because it is looked upon as a sort of farewell party. At commencement, students do bid a fond farewell to college life with its many happy memories, but this "good-bye" should not be taken as an absolute thing. Too often overlooked is the fact that graduation exercises are a reception party also, for it is upon graduation that a Loyola man says good-bye as a student and says hello as an Alumnus. No matter where he goes in the future, he carries with him the name and honor of a Loyola Alumnus.

The name, however, standing by itself as it so often does, does not mean a great deal when allowed to wear thin from a prolonged period of dormancy. A Loyola Alumnus must act and be a Loyolalumnus, if the name is to carry any weight and significance among outsiders. From time to time, there appear in the daily newspapers articles reiterating the vast sums of money donated by loyal alumni to their respective alma maters for the erection of new buildings and for the care and maintenance of the old ones. Many times, the sums raised by the Alumni Associations of America's larger colleges and universities will run as high as $500,000 or more, the money being used to supply the necessary funds for grants and scholarships and for maintaining the developmental and research projects carried on annually by these schools.

Here, at Loyola, we cannot claim the vast alumni membership of these larger institutions, for in her several decades of educating and training the youth of Maryland, Loyola has graduated fewer than 2500 sons. But even so, the funds raised by our alumni for the continuation of the college's work seem small when compared with the amounts raised by other colleges of comparative size. The Gym Fund appeal has been in progress for several years now, but returns have been surprisingly meager. Now, it is certainly true that the worth of any Alumni Association cannot be evaluated strictly by the amount of money it contributes each year to its college. But when you stop to reflect on the quality of the men that Loyola has graduated in the years gone by, famous scientists, doctors, business and religious leaders, men prominent in all walks of life, it seems a pity that so many would appear to have forgotten the college to which they owe, in large measure, their success in the outside world.

The present academic year is fast drawing to a close and soon another class of Loyola men will ascend the rostrum for the last time. Since this happens to be the same group with whom I have been associated for the past four years, I feel I can speak with more sincerity and conviction than were I just a part of the passing crowd. My advice would simply be: DON'T attend the graduation exercises June 6 as interested onlookers. Too many students in the past have reduced their day of commencement to the status of a farewell party. For them, thus far, there has been no reception party. It is up to us, the Class of '54, and the classes which will follow in our footsteps, not to make the same mistake, but rather to become Loyolalumni in the true sense of the word. Remember, the welcome mat is prominently displayed at every meeting of the Alumni Association. Loyola wants all her sons to remain close—always.

Hail And Farewell

Well, men, this issue of the GREYHOUND marks the end of the line for yours truly and for the other senior members of the staff. In accordance with GREYHOUND tradition, next year's editor, Hal Sanks, will take over the last issue. The best of luck to you and your staff, Hal!

Looking back now at the achievements and shortcomings of the GREYHOUND during the past year, and weighing our successes against our failures, I can find little cause for regret at anything which has appeared within its pages. A year ago at this time, when your editors first accepted their posts, we promised that the GREYHOUND would be a student newspaper reflecting the ideas and opinions of the student body. To the achievement of that end we have striven for the past ten issues, and, if in any way we have fallen short of our goal, we are sincerely sorry.

In conclusion, I want to express my sincere appreciation to the editors, Dick, Bill, Bo, Hal, and Jim, and the other members of the staff without whose cooperation and help the GREYHOUND could never have appeared every third Friday. While handing out plaudits, the student body itself must come in for its share of praise for their support of the paper and its staff throughout the year. Good luck to all! Many thanks for listening!

Grass Fights Losing Battle For Survival

During the past weeks, signs have been cropping up on the various bulletin boards around the campus. All of these notifications bear the same admonition: Keep off the grass.

What is the real story behind this campaign? Who is the master-mind behind this enterprise? Has the undertaking been successful?

Your inquiring GREYHOUND reporter was able to dig up the following facts. This "Follow the cement walk" campaign is faculty-sponsored with Student Council backing. The idea behind the program is to give the campus greenery an even break. Within the past month, over $5,000 has been spent on shrubbery, seedlings, sod, and other such sundry items.

Elephant Walks Busy

The result is observable any week-day between the hours of 8:30 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. The traditional "Elephant Walks" are still the busy thoroughfares of yesterday. The stampeding herds daily move from one watering hole to another over the barren trails. Loyola students constantly show themselves to be firm believers in the mathematical maxim: The shortest distance between two points is a straight line.

Certain campus areas come in for more than their share of student abuse. The good earth between the Library and Science Buildings intimately knows the carressing touch of the soles and heels of all but the most conscientious students. During the monsoon season, this area preserves more footprints than the entrance to Grauman's Chinese Theatre.

Barbed Wire Barriers

Is there a solution to this situation? The measures of a former administration might again be utilized. Those who recall the barbed wire strung along the walks also remember that it gave to the campus the air of a nursery. Nevertheless, some measures must be taken, and barbed wire does keep grubby feet off the grass.

The ideal solution is the education of the proletariat. The hoi polloi must be shown that it is really beneficial to use the walks. The popular rumor presently circulating is untrue. The walks are able to stand the wear and tear.

Hicken . . .

high scholastic rating. In Hicken's case, however, the record speaks for itself. In his three years at Evergreen, he has consistently placed within the first ten members of his class. His scholastic ability has won him membership in Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit honor fraternity, and Eta Sigma Phi, the national Latin honor fraternity. Bill climaxed his collegiate achievements by recently being named to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Recently Engaged

Bill can always be seen at the various campus athletic and social events with his steady companion of the last four years, Miss Nancy Hardin, to whom he recently became engaged. The prospect of a medical career has deferred him from setting any definite marriage date, but we of THE GREYHOUND would like to congratulate Bill on his engagement and wish him the same degree of success in his bright future as he has achieved in his four years of service to Evergreen.

Ideals Of Jesuit College Paper Contrasted With Secular Dailies

Since I have been Faculty Adviser of the Greyhound, I have taken for granted that students know why we have a publication and why Loyola appoints a faculty member as adviser. However, experience shows that some students have vague and hazy notions on both points, and therefore it seems important to clarify the issues.

I think it is obvious that there must be a difference between the secular daily and any college newspaper. For the daily has a city-wide group of readers, some of them intelligent, others but half-educated, some prejudiced on many issues and uninformed. The daily paper must appeal to all classes and must show a financial profit. Ideally, it should aim at forming public opinion on important issues.

Formulate Student Opinion Only

Now the college newspaper is written for a smaller and more homogeneous group, the students of one college campus; and therefore its subject matter, its make-up, its purpose will be determined by the nature of the group who are its readers. It will print information on campus activities and events pertinent and of interest to the students; and though it will attempt, at times, to form opinions, this will be student public opinion on matters concerning them.

Will a Jesuit College paper differ from those published by students of State Universities and private secular colleges? I judge that certain differences must appear; for some topics are of such a nature that a Catholic point of view must emerge.

"Abandon Them Tomorrow"

One might also note that the secular college press is often affected by prevailing trends in modern philosophy to which no Jesuit college has ever subscribed. For instance, philosophic relativism exerts an influence in the secular college, and this means that truth varies with places, times and persons. We, for the most part, approach truth as a limit, but never really attain it with certainty. As William James, the American pragmatist and Harvard professor, used to say, we must turn away from fixed principles and absolutes, we must take such truths as we have for today but be ready to abandon them tomorrow.

Why A Faculty Moderator?

Naturally, in institutions where such modern philosophies prevail, students will be allowed a wide freedom to write what they want, rather than they will be in colleges where scholastic philosophy and the Catholic faith are taught.

This leads up to a final question: Why does Loyola appoint a Greyhound Faculty Moderator? The work is to see that the students do their job of writing, editing and publishing a paper which the college will want to recognize as its own. That is why a Moderator insists on reviewing all copy before it goes to press, for if he does not do so, there will sometimes be articles published which are offensive to good taste, or errors of fact will appear, or something will be printed which a Jesuit college could not sponsor.

Reserve Right To Criticize

Does this mean that Loyola does not trust its student editors as writers? I would say that it means that we reserve the right to criticize a student's judgment, the right to check on facts appearing in articles, and the right to modify or even to exclude an article when the case seems to demand it.

In three years, I have rarely had occasion to exclude an article; but, be concrete, this has happened three times in twenty-eight issues.

This then, is the case for a Jesuit college student newspaper and its Faculty Adviser.

Rev. Joseph d'Inville, S.J.

"Julius Caesar" No At Little Theatre

M-G-M's mammoth production of "Julius Caesar" began a long-term engagement at the Little Theatre last Wednesday. This latest in a series of M-G-M masterpieces features a star-studded cast headed by James Mason, Louis Calhern, Marlon Brando, John Gielgud, Deborah Kerr, and George Garson. Never has the story of "Et tu Brute" been enacted with such realism and power as in this colossal spectacle which flashes across the Little's screen with the splendor and fervor which one might expect from such a talented cast and production staff.

Your Student Council

Since the last issue much has happened in council activities. Of greatest importance was a meeting of the Executive Committee with the Dean of Studies resulting in a firm understanding between the two parties as to the extent and limitation of student council activities. The council will arrange the social calendar for the school with the administration holding the power of veto. This is necessary since many outside organizations and the alumni request the school facilities from time to time and these dates must fit into the schedule of social events presented by the council. Motions passed by the council will receive studied consideration by the administration and the relations between each faction have been as clearly defined as possible at the present time. Future Executive Committees may well bear in mind that this should become a regular practice. Monthly meetings with the Dean should be scheduled throughout the school year. We also remind future councils that reasonableness in all matters is necessary for a well-functioning student government.

Constitution Ratified

In a special meeting held Monday night, April 11th, the council's Constitution was ratified with several revisions. This should make the task of the next student council president and his members a bit easier. All activities are to submit to the Social Chairman of the council their schedule of anticipated events for the coming year immediately after elections. We do not expect all events to be included since some will not be decided until the coming year, but there are certain standard events held every year and these must be submitted so that the social calendar can be outlined before the coming year rolls around. This is a must and if not done your activity may not be able to hold all of its events if conflicts in dates should arise next year. We cannot emphasize this too strongly. Also with this revised constitution comes the official taking over of this council by the new president. I have presided at my last meeting, since the new president will officiate at the meetings immediately following his election. He will receive his official public installation at the Queen's Ball tomorrow night as has been the custom in the past years.

President

Bill Hicken Leads The Way In Activities

When the final diploma has been handed out on June 6 and the graduation exercises have come to a close, Loyola College will have lost one of her most devoted and distinguished sons in the personage of Bill Hicken. However, Loyola's loss will be the University of Maryland Medical School's gain, for, come September, Bill will have traded the green and grey of Evergreen for the white apparel of a young doctor-to-be.

A graduate of Loyola High in 1950, the likable pre-med student already had a long record of scholastic and extra-curricular accomplishments ascribed to him when he enrolled at Evergreen in September of that same year.

TKA President

Undoubtedly, Bill's greatest achievements in the field of college activities have been in the realm of debating and oratory. A member of the Bellarmine Debating Society for four years, and vice-president in his senior year, Bill has been associated with several winning tournament teams. Last year, he added the Jenkin's Gold Medal to his collection of awards by placing first in the annual Prize Debate.

In recognition of his debating ability, Hicken was chosen at the end of his sophomore year for membership in the Tau Kappa Alpha national honorary forensic fraternity, and he has served as president of the campus chapter for the past two years. The conduction of the third and fourth Annual TKA Tournaments for high school orators and extemporaneous speakers in the Baltimore area has been his responsibility. Last spring, this contest drew 115 participants from 25 different schools, and an even larger turnout is expected for this year's tourney to be held tomorrow afternoon.

Bill Hicken

Among his many extra-curricular activities, we can include his posts as page editor of the GREYHOUND and activities editor of the 1954 Evergreen Annual. Having served on the GREYHOUND staff for three years, Bill was raised to the position of page editor this year and is responsible for the make-up of a number of pages in past editions and several lead articles. Under his guidance, the activities section of the yearbook gradually began to take the form which makes it a highlight of an already superior annual. By virtue of his interest in all activities and his presidency in one, Bill has served for two years as a member of the Student Council and presently holds the post of secretary in that organization.

GYM JOTTINGS

by Ed Burnham

Congratulations are due to Harry Lentz whose wife presented him with the first little Greyhound of '54 on April 27. Junior weighed in at six pounds, one ounce.

Also in line for congratulations is our Mason-Dixon heavyweight champ, Ned Callahan, who, on Holy Saturday, was married to the former Joanna Berger. Mrs. Callahan graduated from Mount Saint Agnes College with the Class of '52.

Jerry Chadwick has been holding out on most of us since Christmas, as he informed us the other day that he has been engaged all this time to Mickey Madden. Miss Madden is a product of I.N.D., Class of '49, and quite a beauty I might add.

Congratulations to Joel Hittleman on his selection by the Fort Wayne Zollners in their draft of college basketball talent. The Zollners are coached by Charlie Eckman, who refereed many of our basketball games.

A few records have been set on the campus that most of you may not have heard of . . . Paul Dodd's fast ball is about the fastest ever seen in these parts . . . Joe Serio, who tipped the scales at 310 pounds this time last year, now weighs exactly 192 . . . that paid advertisement in the "Watch-Dog" last issue paid off for Joel, and when last seen he was rabbit hunting in Oklahoma . . . Chad holds the record for clearing a classroom.

The tennis team has the distinction of being the only Greyhound to down a Towson Teachers' team this year; but try to schedule a basketball game with them and you will get about six million different reasons why they can't. They have yet to give a good reason.

The Seniors played the Freshmen the other day in softball and won 1-0. The odd part is that only two hits were given up in 6½ innings of play, one for each team. (The Seniors got the only run on four walks in a row in the 4th.)

As soon as Wilson Bean finds the boxing gloves, Vince Rallo says he is going to take on Burch Harmon. (Wilson said he found them, Vince) . . . Don Pearson's golf game has been improving lately with the exception of the last hole, seems he is always going over par on the 19th . . . John Benzing, the hard-luck kid, as far as injuries are concerned, will go all out at the Mason-Dixon Track Championships down at Lynchburg . . . Dick Michels, with us the first semester of our freshman year, sends word home from Japan that he is going to marry a little (4' 10") Japanese girl.

Question of the week: What member of the basketball team, now on the track team, has been writing poems for another member of the basketball team, now a member of the tennis team, to give to his girl?

There come many times in life when we must resign ourselves to the fact that all good things must come to an end, and college is no exception. Remember, it's later than you think, make the most of college. Wish you all the best of luck. . . . Ed.

Bill Phillips Block L Prexy

In the elections held on Wednesday, May 28, in the cafe, Bill Phillips defeated Bob Cucuel in the race for Athletic Association President. Bill, who is a varsity stickman and coach of this year's freshman basketball team, says that he plans big things for next year's Block L Club. As you remember, the present Block L Club sponsored the very successful Athletes' Fete which was held after one of the basketball games. They will also have, in the near future, the annual athletes' banquet. At this banquet, captains for next year's varsity teams will be elected. The post of secretary and treasurer of the Block L will not be filled until the first meeting next year when they will be elected.

This year's officers, Gerry Chadwick, Ned Callahan and Dan Whiteford, must be congratulated for the fine job that they have done.

Joe Lacy

Last Lacy (For A While) To Leave Loyola

On June 6, the last (for a while) in a long and distinguished line of athletes will graduate from Loyola. He is Joe Lacy, guard and second high scorer for the basketball team, and number one man and captain of the tennis team.

Wins First Tourney

It is in this latter sport that Joe has really starred. He started playing tennis in the eighth grade of grammar school. The next year, Joe entered Loyola High School and there continued his tennis activities as the number four man of the Don tennis team, at which position he posted a 7-2 record. That summer, Joe entered and won the News-Post Junior Tournament. This was the first in a long line of tournaments in which he would participate, and in which he would emerge victorious.

In his sophomore year at Loyola High, he was the number two man on the team. But it was in his junior and senior years that Joe really came into his own, for he was both captain and number one netter. His high school record shows only five matches lost in four years of competition.

Joe enrolled at Loyola College in September of 1950. In his first season of college tennis, he was the number three man. That year he posted an 11-4 record.

Biggest Thrills

The sophomore and junior years were, to be sure, very good years for both Joe and Loyola, for he compiled in these years a 22 won, 5 lost record. He was the number one Loyola netter those years and played against top college opposition. It was in his junior year that he received his biggest thrills. One of these was his defeating of the number one man from the University of Maryland, Bob Hevener. The other came in the Catholic U. match. Joe had lost the first set to Catholic and was behind 5-3 in the second one. He then proceeded to take three straight match points to deuce, and then finally win the game, the set and the match.

Lists Favorite Sport

As to his favorite sport, he claims that basketball afforded him the most pleasure while in high school, and tennis while in college. In his tennis game, Joe features a very good ground shot and an unorthodox serve which is most difficult to return. Coach Vince Colimore says that Joe's steadiness is what makes him as good as he is. He simply wears the other player down. After college, Joe will enter the Coast Guard.

Fine Defense, Good Bat Attack Nullified By Faulty Pitching

"Say, son, do you know how to pitch?" This question is one which has been projected many times of late by baseball mentor Lefty Reitz in hopes of remedying the sad deficiency so apparent in his present aggregation. Lack of steady and consistent twirling so far has been the weak link in an otherwise strong baseball nine. Fine defensive play and an adequate hitting attack have been nullified by the over-abundance of walks and wild pitches yielded by Loyola hurlers.

Donahue Steady

A ray of sunshine in the gray overcast has been produced by the lusty batting feats of Captain Jim Donahue, third sacker Earl Hamper, and centerfielder Carroll Fitzgerald. Donahue, the leading Hound hitter to date, has garnered a safety in almost every contest.

The varsity binglers' activity has resulted in a 3 won, 7 lost log. Opening up their campaign in most impressive style, the Hounds copped both ends of a bargain-bill from the Cardinals of Catholic University on May 3 by scores of 7 to 2 and 10 to 2. Soph Ed Cox and freshman Doug Foreman, the latter having since been declared ineligible for scholastic reasons, recorded the Loyola victories. Donahue led the offensive, having reached the Redbird twirlers for four base-knocks in six appearances during the afternoon.

First Setback

Towson State Teachers' College capitalized on 13 walks yielded by a quartet of Loyola hurlers to overcome an early 5 to 0 Loyola lead and come out on top 12 to 10 in a contest at Evergreen on May 8.

The unlucky number 13 appeared again the following Saturday. That number of free passes were handed out by the several Hound hillmen who saw action as Green Terrors of Western Maryland smothered the home team to 4. Loyola batters, however, the longest drives of the day. First baseman Jerry McCarron circled the bases on an inside-the-park home run, and Mike Peppler, in pinch hitting role, propelled a leathery sphere over the 374 marker in left field. Baltimore University's highly regarded squad took the measure of the Hound forces by a 6 to 3 score in a well-played fray on April 13. Two days later the Reitzmen traveled to Chestertown. The change in scenery was no help as the Washington College nine gave us some of the same medicine. The Shamrock men recorded 6 to 1 and 7 to 1 victories. Earl Hamper, hot corner guardian, stroked a round-trip in the tight second game loss.

Hounds Divide Twin Bill

Mount Saint Mary's College visited Evergreen, April 22, for an afternoon doubleheader, which saw the Mounties winning the opener 8 to 4 and Loyola taking the nightcap 9 to 5.

The twin bill featured big innings, with St. Mary's capturing the first game with seven runs in the 7th inning, overcoming a 4-1 Loyola advantage, while the Greyhounds came up with a string of four-run frames in the second contest. Ed Lanahan, although relieved by Paul Dodd, got credit for the win which halted the Hound string of six straight setbacks.

Terrors Triumph

The afternoon of April 25 saw the varsity binglers journey to Westminster, Maryland, where they dropped a game to the Green Terrors, 6 to 1. Pitcher Bill C. pitched good ball as he silenced Hound bats with six well-placed base-knocks.

Fort Wayne Court Club Picks Hittleman As Pro-Draft Choice

Senior Joel Hittleman, Loyola's star forward and unanimous all-conference selection, was drafted by the Fort Wayne Zollner Pistons of the National Basketball Association at the recent meeting in New York.

Fort Wayne Coach Charlie Eckman, a former referee in these parts, undoubtedly liked what he saw of Hittleman during his three years here and so he grabbed Loyola's brilliant shot-maker on the ninth round of the player draft.

Consistent Record Breaker

Hittleman, who was surprised and pleased at being selected by the Pistons, broke just about every available record while performing for the Greyhounds. He became the fifth player in the school's history to reach 1000 points as he set the Evergreen Gym record (44 points), the St. Mary's Gym record (32 points) and then climaxed his college playing days by establishing two Mason-Dixon tournament marks as his team bowed out in the final championship game.

Joel, in addition to making everybody's all-opponent team, was chosen to the all-conference and all-tournament squads, all-state team, and received honorable mention on the All Catholic All American team.

Anxious To Earn Berth

An army veteran hailing from New York, Joel has the high regards for Eckman and is anxious to try his hand at the game. Standing at only 6-2, he realizes his chances of gaining a berth depend on his ability as an outside man with a set.

THOSE BENZING BOYS. Pictured here are John, Bob and Jack Benzing. John will leave Loyola in June. Bob and Jack will still be around next year.

Benzing Family Noted For Speed And Hustle

by Gerry Kane

Since coming to Baltimore nearly four years ago, I have heard the name Benzing mentioned frequently and normally it was in connection with sports. In recent years, we at Loyola have enjoyed watching representatives of the clan perform for the Green and Grey.

John, a senior Business student having finished his basketball chores, is in the mist of his fourth campaign on the cinders. A graduate of Patterson Park, where he played only one year of each sport, he entered Loyola in September, 1950.

The next two seasons found John gradually approaching a first-string position. This year, after a few brief appearances, he joined the first five. A constant hustler and highly aggressive player, John's value to the team was doubled by his jumping ability which made him Lefty's third-ranking rebounder.

Injuries Retard Track Efforts

Beset by leg injuries for three years, John has still managed to win the conference high-jumping championship for two years. He also holds our track high-jump record—6 feet even. After a fast start against Towson State when he had firsts in the 70-yard high hurdles and the high-jump (where he leaped 6'1") and a close second in the "220" John hurt his leg and wrist when he fell during hurdling practice and, as this goes to press, is just beginning to practice again.

For the last two years, another resident of 3623 Roberts Place has been displaying his athletic prowess here at Loyola. A four-letter-man at Mt. St. Joseph, Bob, in his first year, played on the Basketball "B" squad. An outfielder and second baseman at St. Joe, Bob filled in at first base last year and was the team's leading sticker. Closing out his freshman year as a sprinter for Coach McElroy's thinclads, Bob garnered several points in the late-season meets.

Sparkled In Tournament

An operation on his knee for the removal of a damaged cartilage, which was originally a football injury, got Bob off to a late start in basketball this year. However, showing little effects of the operation, Bob played well all year and, displaying the great speed and hustle which seems to be synonymous with the name, ended the season with sparkling play in the tournament, particularly against Hopkins.

More On The Way

John and Bob have two younger brothers, both athletically inclined, (and both fast runners). Donny, only a freshman, is playing varsity ball in three sports at Mt. St. Joseph and Billy, only 11, is a football and basketball player for Red Shield. Perhaps in a few years they will be wearing the Green and Grey. What about Jack Benzing, the freshman, an All-Conference soccer selection, and a promising basketball player after last season's showings? He pitched his father's Sacred Heart softball team to a city championship last year. Now he has been converted into a baseball pitcher by Lefty, and has looked good in his first attempts at the new sport.

Well, Jack is only a cousin to John and Bob, and with two ball-playing younger brothers, forms yet another division of the Benzing clan.

Jack Faw New 'Mural Leader

by Jeff Creamer

On the intramural sports front there is a great deal of action. At present there are five tournaments being conducted.

The swimming tournament holds the immediate spotlight. The tournament was disappointing considering the number of teams entered, with only one team from each year. However, considering the close fight for the championship, the spectacular meets, and the very encouraging outside interest shown, the tournament was very successful.

On April 28th the senior swimmers battled with the junior Rex Ramblers for the championship. The juniors, pre-tourney favorites, were led by the trio of Bob Cucuel, Dick Wheeler and Skip DeMarco to victory. The Polymorphonuclear Leucocytes were sparked by Ned Callahan.

Regarding the other tournaments, tennis and horseshoes are just beginning. Each of these is a single elimination doubles tournament. The Hopkins brothers are rated a good chance in the 'shoes tourney. Nevertheless, there are no heavy favorites in either tournament, so that both are wide open.

Six teams are listed in the newly inaugurated volleyball tournament. There hasn't been enough activity as yet to make a worthwhile prediction on the outcome but the senior Ballerinas, led by Jerry Chadwick and Terry Ahearn, and the Faculty, sparked by Lefty Reitz and Lieutenant Patterson, both look very good.

In the softball tournament eight teams have been entered. The freshmen Olympians, behind the pitching of Bernie Plott, are rated a likely choice for the title. The Rambling Rebels, led by Tom Reynolds, and the senior team are also in contention.

The student amassing the highest number of points in intramural competitions throughout the year will be awarded a trophy as soon as the tournaments are concluded.

In a few weeks Jack Faw will take over as intramural commissioner. He is succeeding Bo Menton and Harry Lentz.

Jack, this year, directed the Junior Intramurals. If there is to be another successful intramural season, student co-operation will again be required.

Mo Reeder Shoots Net Score 62; Cops Senior Pro-Am Golf

Mo Reeder shot a sensational net score of 62 at Forest Park Golf Course to win the Senior "Pro-Am" golf tournament. Reeder, with the aid of a 78 handicap, combined his score with Don Pearson's 80 to win by two strokes with a total of 142. Behind them were Jack Sybert, with a (92-26) 66, and Jim Hoeck with a 78, for a total of 144. The third place trophy was awarded to Don Frazier, who shot (114-48) 66, and Gary Waldorf with a 78 for a total of 144 also. A play-off determined the second and third positions.

In another play-off for the fourth and fifth positions, Bill Jones, who shot (109-40) 69, edged out Elmer Wolter, who scored (135-66) 69, for the fourth position.

Christian Posts Lowest Score

Tom Christian won the low gross award by shooting a 90, to edge out Jack Sybert by two strokes. Special awards were given to John Benzing for finishing exactly in the middle of the field and to Tony Calabrese for finishing last. Tony received a book on how to play golf.

Vern Steedman led the "Pro" division by shooting a 77 to beat Jim Hoeck and Gary Waldorf by a single stroke. Waldorf won a special award for shooting closest to the pin on the eighth hole. . . . And a good time was had by all.

Athletic Banquet Scheduled May 22

On Saturday night, May 22, the annual Athletic Association Banquet will be held, here at Evergreen. At this banquet, letters and sweaters will be distributed to those athletes who have earned them for services given to Loyola teams this past year. Also a Block L scroll will be awarded to every graduating senior who has participated in varsity athletics.

The "Intramural Athlete of the Year" will receive his award at the banquet. This award is decided on by the number of sports in which an intramural athlete participated during the course of the year.

Captains for next year's teams will also be elected then. Short speeches will be given by both the Moderator and Director of athletics.

Seniors To Play Juniors In Lacrosse

The Junior and Senior classes here at Loyola hope to play a lacrosse game sometime before the end of school. Plans are in the preliminary stages and the date and site of the game has not been set.

These same two classes met in lacrosse during the spring of 1953 in a Frosh-Soph game for parents' day. The present seniors were victorious by a 2-1 score. Anyone interested in playing see Ed Burnham in the senior year and George Lewis in the junior class.

Divot-Diggers Favorite In Golf Tourney

Apparently unable to untrack themselves, Loyola's golfers have run into a series of losses. Defeats by Dartmouth and Maryland could have been expected, though not by such lopsided scores as 8-1 and 7½-1½ respectively. However, an upset loss to Western Maryland, which played without their number two man, by a score of 6-3, was a thunderous blow to the Greyhound hopes of winning the Mason-Dixon title.

Sandwiched between these losses were easy wins over American U., Johns Hopkins and Mt. St. Marys.

Don Pearson has been the brightest light in Loyola's season, losing but one match and tying another. This included a great victory over Dipiro of Maryland when Don had the medal score of the day. Everyone else has had a difficult time winning consistently, though Dick Snyder, Gary Waldorf and Jim Hoeck, who, along with Pearson, will carry our M-D hopes, all have winning records.

VOTE

As was stated in an earlier edition, the Greyhound will award a trophy to the student whom the student body decides has done the most to promote and back the affairs of the College, whether they be social, athletic or academic. The presentation of the trophy will take place at the Annual Queen's Ball tomorrow night. A plaque will also be awarded to the Loyola athlete who has best forwarded the ideals of the College off, as well as on the athletic field.

The students are asked to assist the Greyhound in this endeavor by conscientiously choosing the student whom they feel merits this recognition. All votes must be in the Greyhound office by 5 P.M. today in order that the trophy may be presented tomorrow night.

Loyola's Bill Flattery makes save during the Western Maryland game. Flattery, a freshman, has excelled in the goal for the Hounds.

Stickmen Suffer Rash Of Defeats After Early Wins

The 1954 Lacrosse season at Loyola has been filled with surprises. In the first place, last year's coach, John Mohler, was forced to quit for business reasons. Through most of the winter no one had any idea who would replace him. Finally, when it was announced that Charles Wenzel would be at the helm, we were somewhat at a loss concerning his coaching abilities. This was his first year as a Lacrosse coach. Charlie was a standout defenseman for the University of Maryland for four years, graduating in 1952. Presently he is assistant manager of the Baltimore Convention Bureau besides coaching the Hound Lacrosse team.

Run, Run, Run

Coach Wenzel accepted the challenge with high spirits and immediately set the squad to running. With full equipment and carrying their sticks, the men can be seen every day engaging in wind sprints and running around the ¼-mile track, while waiting for the baseball team to finish its practice.

Patiently, Charlie skillfully blended the fellows with experience with those newcomers to the game who were willing to work. Aiding in this task was Joe Tydings, a fellow defenseman of Charlie's at the U. of Maryland. While Charlie pruned the lacrosse saplings on the midfield and attack, Joe showed the fine points of the game to the defensemen and goalies.

Their work began to show some signs of progressing. This was helped by the fact that several scrimmages with other colleges and club teams were arranged by the coach. Their first game was played against Williams College and it proved to be a thriller as far as the score went. The Hounds won 3-2 in an overtime. This game helped to iron out some of the rough spots besides giving the players the necessary confidence that can be obtained only in a game.

Trip W. Md., Penn State

Against Western Maryland they fared even better, winning 7-3. This game, too, gave the players the needed experience of game play. Always stressing the need of being in top shape, the coaches constantly kept them running. The game against Penn State came and went. The Green and Grey had won again, this time by the score of 10-6.

On April 19th the Hounds faced the strong northern power under the handle of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. The game went into the conventional overtime periods with the teams tied up at 6-6. With but 1:22 remaining in the final overtime a high hard shot wended its way through a crowd of defensemen and snuck into the Hound goal. Thus the Green and Grey dropped a tough one to a good fast team.

Lose To Bees In Rough Game

On Saturday, April 24th, we met the Bees from Baltimore University and went down to the ignominious tune of 10-5. High tempers and strained relations marked this game as 4 players were expelled.

The only senior on the squad and one of the two returning starters from last year's aggregation, Bob Strott, is leading the Hounds so far in scoring, with eight goals and two assists.

Right behind Bob in the scoring column is Jack Burke, a high stepping Junior. Jack has 5 goals and 3 assists. Bob Gross and Bill Phillips are tied for the third spot, each having 4 goals and 1 assist. On the attack, freshman Dick Blackshire has passed off on four assists to be next. The rest of the scoring is spread among the attackmen and midfielders.

Praise For A Deserving Squad

The coaches are justly proud of the defensive work of the team. Junior Fred Buchness, and two sophomores, Paul Buckmaster and Bob Baldwin, are doing a fine job of keeping the other teams away from our goal. They are spelled by Jack Flattery, a strong freshman. In the goal the team has a lad by the name of Bill Flattery, brother of Jack. So far he has made 48 saves in the four contests, most of them on the spectacular side.

On Wednesday, April 28, the Green and Grey stickmen suffered another setback at the hands of a strong Maryland team, 21-0, on the winner's field. Coach Wenzel's boys, playing over their heads, could not seem to get started on the offense, while the defense tried to contain the Terp attack in vain. On Saturday, May 1, the Hounds lost a hard one to the Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins, 18-1. Although many hoped that the score would be closer, it was no real surprise that the stronger Jay team should emerge victorious. Led by their high scoring crease-man, Bob Taylor, who netted four goals, Hopkins gave the Greyhound goalies a real workout. This was not so for the whole game, for at the end of the first quarter play, the Hounds were only behind 3-1. The lone Loyola goal was scored by Jack Burke. Tomorrow, the Greyhounds will travel to the campus of Swarthmore College, for the last game of the season.

Hound Runners Prep For M-D Championship

The Loyola trackmen opened their season on Friday, March 30, with a 43-74 defeat to the Teachers of Towson on the winner's field. Towson, which has an exceptionally strong running team, swept the dashes and the longer distances, with the Greyhounds taking first place only in the half mile. Loyola's other victories came in the shot-put, where Harry Lentz topped competition, the high jump and high hurdles which were easily won by John Benzing, and the pole vault. Other point-getters for the Green and Grey were Bob Cucuel, Mickey Vogel, George Leyh, Alan Meehan, Dick Coyle, Bob Heid, Dick Barranger, Joe DeSantis, Jim Vaeth, Jim Staiti, Frank Pugh and Jack Ray.

Benzing Out Of C.U. Meet

The next week, in the C.U. Invitational meet, the thinclads scored 18½ points to capture fourth place. This score would no doubt have been doubled if the Greyhounds' chief point-getter, John Benzing, had been able to run. Ed Colbourn took the half mile again with no trouble at all and led the team in scoring. Among the other boys gaining points and ribbons for their performance were Harry Lentz in the shot-put and pole vault, Dick Coyle in the broad jump and relay, Jim Vaeth in the low hurdles, and Jim Staiti, George Leyh, Joe DeSantis, Frank Pugh and Jack Ray in the relays.

In the next meet with Western Maryland, Loyola dropped a close decision. Winners in this meet were Ed Colbourn, as usual, in the half mile, Jim Vaeth in the low hurdles, and Dave Bryan in the pole vault.

Last Saturday, the Greyhounds met Washington College at Evergreen in a dual meet and defeated them by a score of 74-47. After losing the sprints, the Hounds came alive in the hurdles and the weight events to account for the sizable score which they compiled. Jim Vaeth, Dave Bryan, Harry Lentz and Ed Colburne accounted for some of the Loyola firsts.

Netmen Show Winning Log, Consistent Play

Having progressed well into their spring schedule, our Hound racqueteers are the holders of the very enviable record of five wins against one defeat. Thus far, the entire team is playing a championship brand of ball. The main center of attraction is the young rookie from Connecticut, "Skip" Chard. Skippy so far has advanced to the fourth position on the team and coach Vince Colimore says, if the boy furthers his serving ability, he will mold into a great competitor.

As for the rest of the team, they have been great, especially Joe Lacy, who recently defeated the highly touted Bradley, from Washington College.

Last Tuesday, the Hounds of Loyola defeated the Jays of Hopkins by a score of 5-4. This match will probably decide the championship of the Northern Division in the Mason-Dixon Conference. In the four previous matches, the Greyhounds came out rather well, for they defeated Towson Teachers, Western Maryland, American U. and St. Peters, all by large margins. The last defeat suffered by the Hounds was at the hands of Colgate by a score of 9-0.

LOYOLA OF THE EAST

Running With The Hounds

By Bo Menton, Sports Editor

Athletically speaking, this just isn't our year. As was the case during the fall and winter seasons, spring results should find the colors of Loyola lowered much too often. One of the few bright spots in an otherwise dismal spring season has been the play of Coach Charley Wenzel's lacrosse team. Despite limited material and the absence of experienced personnel, and plagued by ineligibilities and numerous injuries to key players, the coach and the team refused to stop hustling. The stickmen fooled a lot of people by winning their first three encounters and then playing R.P.I. on even terms before bowing 7-6 in the second overtime. Regardless of the outcome of the remaining games, they certainly deserve praise for determination and fighting spirit. With only one player leaving by way of graduation, this aggregation will bear watching in the next few years.

Bill Phillips New Block L President

The recent election results show Bill Phillips to be the new president of the Athletic Association and the Block L Club. Congratulations, Bill! You have assumed leadership of an organization which is potentially one of the strongest on campus. But, handicapped in the past few years for various reasons, the Block L Club, composed of the school's letter winners, has not enjoyed its proper prestige nor contributed its utmost for the betterment of Loyola athletics. All will agree that student support and school spirit are lacking. Yet, if it is to be improved upon, the athletes must unite and lead the way. Hazardous meetings and pep rallies and scattered posters are not the answer. A strong Block L Club cooperating with the Boosters Club, the intramural department, and the alumni could go a long way toward promoting more and better athletic events, both intercollegiate and intramural.

Possibly night meetings with a touch of formality and with former Loyola athletic standouts attending would help. The Block L and the Athletic office could sponsor more faculty-student and student-alumni events such as golf tournaments, interclass games, and alumni days. These would prove socially and financially successful and would tend to bring Loyola men closer together. The annual Block L dance must be returned to its former place of prominence on the social calendar. True, many ideas such as these are impractical at the present, yet steps could be taken in the right direction. Now is the time to start.

Faw To Head Intramurals

Another change finds junior Jack Faw as the new Commissioner of Intramurals. This job entails a great deal of hard work that is hindered by lack of playing areas and limited free time for scheduling events. This year's intramural program enjoyed a fair amount of success. A few new activities were added; more should follow. There is certainly room for improvement and with student cooperation and assistance Jack's job will be made a lot easier.

When speaking of hard work and long hours, you can't help but think of Ed Burnham and the job of director of Sports Publicity. Contrary to what you might believe, this job is anything but a glamorous front office position. Ed handled this thankless job without pay in addition to attending classes and working after school to pay his tuition. Ed will graduate in June and will be replaced by Larry Hart, who is returning from the army to take over his old job.

Before being called into the service Larry was Publicity Director and a GREYHOUND Sports writer.
